The role

As a GMP (Good Manufacturing Practice) Technician at the Clinical BioManufacturing Facility you will undertake specific duties in our cleanrooms, supporting our team of production scientists. These will require a high degree of accuracy, compliance and attention to detail whilst following established procedures and documenting all actions. You must be able to work under strictly defined regulatory conditions, adhering to Good Manufacturing Practices.

A proactive approach with regards to the notification of any concern or unexpected event is required. Once trained, you will be required to independently prioritise your own tasks and work with minimal supervision. You must have an adaptable approach to work and a willingness to tackle a variety of tasks. You should have excellent organisational skills, the ability to work both independently and as part of a team, together with an ability to communicate and develop effective working relationships with a wide range of staff at all levels.

Responsibilities

- Work safely and correctly in a cleanroom environment and demonstrate an understanding as to why these are important for manufacturing medicinal products
- Assist in the preparation, maintenance and operation of the cleanrooms including regular cleaning and environmental monitoring activities
- Check and clean equipment
- Prepare cleanroom clothing for laundry and return laundered clothing correctly
- Assist in the preparation of buffers
• Ensure materials are available for the Production team by supporting the daily running of the cleanrooms
• Operate the steriliser
• Document all work comprehensively and according to written procedures
• Contribute to the maintenance, update and review of controlled documents within the Quality Management System (QMS) including Standard Operating Procedures, Production Batch Records and Forms.
• Assist with other QMS-related activities such as Change Controls and Corrective and Preventive Actions (CAPA) whilst liaising closely with the Quality Assurance team
• Assist in the training of other staff members where appropriate
• Ensure adequate stocks of consumable items are available and order as required
• Keep up-to-date with GMP and health and safety regulations relevant to the post

Pre-employment screening
All offers of employment are made subject to standard pre-employment screening, as applicable to the post.
If you are offered the post, you will be asked to provide proof of your right-to-work, your identity, and we will contact the referees you have nominated. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration (so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities so that we can discuss appropriate adjustments with you), and a declaration of any unspent criminal convictions.
We advise all applicants to read the candidate notes on the University’s pre-employment screening procedures, found at: www.ox.ac.uk/about/jobs/preemploymentscreening/.

Hazard-specific / Safety-critical duties
This job includes hazards or safety-critical activities. If you are offered the post, you will be asked to complete a health questionnaire which will be assessed by our Occupational Health Service (OHS), and the offer of employment will be subject a successful outcome of this assessment.
The hazards or safety-critical duties involved are as follows:

• Regular manual handling
• Work with any substance which has any of the following pictograms on their MSDS:

About the University of Oxford

Welcome to the University of Oxford. We aim to lead the world in research and education for the benefit of society both in the UK and globally. Oxford’s researchers engage with academic, commercial and cultural partners across the world to stimulate high-quality research and enable innovation through a broad range of social, policy and economic impacts.

We believe our strengths lie both in empowering individuals and teams to address fundamental questions of global significance, while providing all our staff with a welcoming and inclusive workplace that enables everyone to develop and do their best work. Recognising that diversity is our strength, vital for innovation and creativity, we aspire to build a truly diverse community which values and respects every individual’s unique contribution.

While we have long traditions of scholarship, we are also forward-looking, creative and cutting-edge. Oxford is one of Europe's most entrepreneurial universities. Income from external research contracts in 2016/17 exceeded £564m and we rank first in the UK for university spin-outs, with more than 130 companies created to date. We are also recognised as leaders in support for social enterprise.

Join us and you will find a unique, democratic and international community, a great range of staff benefits and access to a vibrant array of cultural activities in the beautiful city of Oxford.

The University’s policy on retirement

The University operates an Employer Justified Retirement Age (EJRA) for all academic posts and some academic-related posts. The University has adopted an EJRA of 30 September before the 69th birthday for all academic and academic-related staff in posts at grade 8 and above. The justification for this is explained at: www.admin.ox.ac.uk/personnel/end/retirement/acrelretire8+/.

For existing employees, any employment beyond the retirement age is subject to approval through the procedures: www.admin.ox.ac.uk/personnel/end/retirement/acrelretire8+/.

There is no normal or fixed age at which staff in posts at grades 1–7 have to retire. Staff at these grades may elect to retire in accordance with the rules of the applicable pension scheme, as may be amended from time to time.

Equality of Opportunity

Entry into employment with the University and progression within employment will be determined only by personal merit and the application of criteria which are related to the duties of each particular post and the relevant salary structure. In all cases, ability to perform the job will be the primary consideration. No applicant or member of staff shall be discriminated against because of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation.
