Division	Medical Sciences Division
Department	Nuffield Department of Clinical Neurosciences (NDCN)
Location	Level 6, West Wing, John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, OX3 9DU
Grade and salary	Grade 5: £28,759 – £33,966 per annum
Hours	Full time, although part-time (minimum 0.8 FTE) will be considered
Contract type	Permanent
Reporting to	Paul McNulty, Finance Manager
Vacancy reference	168155
Additional information	We are prepared to offer a model of hybrid working.

The role

The Nuffield Department of Clinical Neurosciences (NDCN) is looking for a professional, friendly and customer-focused individual to join our busy departmental finance team that supports our world leading researchers and students. The Finance Officer plays a key role processing a range of financial transactions relating to Purchasing, Accounts Payable, Accounts Receivable and Expense claims accurately and in a timely manner.

Working closely with the other members of the finance team you will promote and maintain a customer-focussed, high-quality service, and ensure all financial transactions are processed and recorded accurately and in line with university financial controls. It is important that you are able to work well with others and communicate effectively with a wide range of people. In addition, you will need to possess initiative, the ability to work to deadlines and to maintain a high level of attention to detail given the duties involved.

NDCN encourages staff to explore the University's Work Learn Develop programme of funded professional training and development opportunities for university staff. This role provides an excellent opportunity for a suitable individual to pursue a finance qualification while working for NDCN.

Responsibilities

- Respond to a range of enquiries, providing specialist advice and guidance on financial procedures, systems and policies to staff at various levels.
- Process a range of financial transactions, including purchase orders, accounts payable invoices, accounts receivable invoices, expense claims, and student/visitor payments.
- Process journals for recharges and corrections between grants/GL accounts.
- Ensure all financial transactions are carried out in accordance with the University and external financial regulations and accurate and complete accounting records are maintained for audit purposes.
- Keep up to date reconciliations of Departmental Barclaycards, and ensure timely submission of Monthly Barclaycard statements to Central Payments Team.
- Deal with queries from Suppliers via telephone/email regarding outstanding invoices, VAT/price/quantity queries.
- Run financial reports regularly for distribution and taking actions to resolve any issues.
- Gather, manipulate and present data at team meetings and/or for consideration by the Finance Manager.
- Provide training and allocate work to less-experienced members of staff.
- Help co-ordinate with other members of the finance team the archiving of historic accounts payable, accounts receivable and expense claim documents. Assist with the collection of documents for audit purposes when required.
- Maintain good working relationships with key suppliers and stakeholders and be proactive in identifying issues and proposing solutions.
- Contribute towards the development and implementation of departmental financial procedures, updating guidance for staff within the department when required.
- Foster a positive team culture, and model core competencies of team-working, communication, relationship management and adaptability.
- Undertake other duties in the department from time to time as determined commensurate with the grade and responsibilities of this post, and any other reasonable request.

Selection criteria

Essential selection criteria

- Educated to A level standard with GCSE (at least grades C / 4) level English and Maths, or equivalent combination of training and experience
- Suitable experience of working in a relevant financial administration role
- Competent user of computerised financial systems and Microsoft Packages, in particular Excel

- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills, with the ability to communicate effectively with people at all levels both in writing and verbally.
- Excellent time management and demonstrable ability to prioritise workload and produce accurate, detailed work within deadlines
- A flexible attitude in order to support team members and colleagues by assisting with tasks or requests when required.
- Experience of interpreting and applying financial policies

Desirable selection criteria

- Have taken or be willing to undertake AAT or other similar qualification
- Understanding or experience of University's Oracle financial system
- Experience of working in an academic or research environment

Pre-employment screening

Standard checks

If you are offered the post, the offer will be subject to standard pre-employment checks. You will be asked to provide: proof of your right-to-work in the UK; proof of your identity; and (if we haven't done so already) we will contact the referees you have nominated. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities for which you may need us to make appropriate adjustments.

Please read the candidate notes on the University's pre-employment screening procedures at: <https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/pre-employment-checks>

About the University of Oxford

Welcome to the University of Oxford. We aim to lead the world in research and education for the benefit of society both in the UK and globally. Oxford's researchers engage with academic, commercial and cultural partners across the world to stimulate high-quality research and enable innovation through a broad range of social, policy and economic impacts.

We believe our strengths lie both in empowering individuals and teams to address fundamental questions of global significance, while providing all our staff with a welcoming and inclusive workplace that enables everyone to develop and do their best work. Recognising that diversity is our strength, vital for innovation and creativity, we aspire to build a truly diverse community which values and respects every individual's unique contribution.

While we have long traditions of scholarship, we are also forward-looking, creative and cutting-edge. The Nuffield Department of Clinical Neurosciences

The Nuffield Department of Clinical Neurosciences (NDCN), led by Prof Kevin Talbot, has over 400 staff and 150 postgraduate students. NDCN has an established research and teaching portfolio with a national and international reputation for excellence.

NDCN is based in high quality research and clinical facilities in the West Wing of the John Radcliffe Hospital, alongside the Department's world-class Wellcome Centre for Integrative Neuroimaging (WIN) and the Weatherall Institute of Molecular Medicine (which houses 3 of our research groups), and provides the ideal facilities to translate research from bench to bedside. In keeping with the award of NIHR Comprehensive Biomedical Research Centre status, to a partnership between Oxford University and the Oxford Radcliffe Hospitals NHS Trust, we have developed a highly integrated and interdisciplinary environment in which research, teaching, clinical training and clinical care interact. This enables us to establish new approaches to the understanding, diagnosis and treatment of brain diseases. To this end the Department fosters collaborations worldwide and warmly welcomes visiting scientists, clinical fellows and students. The Department comprises six sections:

The University's policy on retirement

The University operates an Employer Justified Retirement Age (EJRA) for all academic posts and some academic-related posts. The University has adopted an EJRA of 30 September before the 69th birthday for all academic and academic-related staff in posts at grade 8 and above. The justification for this is explained at: <https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/the-ejra>

For existing employees, any employment beyond the retirement age is subject to approval through the procedures: <https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/the-ejra>

There is no normal or fixed age at which staff in posts at grades 1–7 have to retire. Staff at these grades may elect to retire in accordance with the rules of the applicable pension scheme, as may be amended from time to time.

Equality of Opportunity

Entry into employment with the University and progression within employment will be determined only by personal merit and the application of criteria which are related to the duties of each particular post and the relevant salary structure. In all cases, ability to perform the job will be the primary consideration. No applicant or member of staff shall be discriminated against because of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation.
