The role

We are seeking to appoint an experienced Configuration Manager for the high profile HARMONI instrumentation project in which Oxford plays a leading role. HARMONI is a new astronomical instrument (adaptive optics assisted near-infrared integral field spectrograph) currently being developed for the under-construction “European Extremely Large Telescope” (ELT) – the largest telescope ever built. The ELT project is an international collaboration, involving over 200 engineers and scientists from nearly ten countries around the world. The HARMONI instrument development is led by Oxford and the UKATC, Edinburgh. Oxford hosts the project DMS, and is responsible for co-ordinating Configuration Management across the project. The project is large, long, and complex – meaning proper Configuration Management is vital to its overall success. As the project approaches the completion of the final design phase and prepares for construction, we are seeking to appoint an experienced Configuration Manager to lead the Configuration Management processes for the consortium, and help the engineering team deliver a high-quality instrument which will in turn enable ground-breaking science.

There is scope within the role to become involved in Configuration Management and Quality Assurance for other Oxford Physics projects on longer timescales.

Responsibilities

This role will lead configuration management activities across the project team, and you will have the following specific responsibilities;

- Own the consortium Configuration Management plan
- Co-ordinate overall project Configuration Management System
- Ensure the product Configuration Item Data List is maintained and up-to-date
- Oversee the Change Management process, ensuring the inevitable changes to Configuration Items are properly assessed, recorded, and implemented.
- Guide the implementation of Configuration Management best practice within the project Document Management System
- Lead the improvement and evolution of Configuration Management tools and processes over the project life time
- Conduct Configuration Audits as appropriate (e.g. before stage-gate reviews)
- Provide guidance on Configuration Management best practice to other consortium partners

In addition, general responsibilities of the role include:

- Report on Configuration Status and progress through the project reporting structure
- Attend project meetings (European travel required), presenting on configuration management as appropriate
- Contribute to a configuration management viewpoint to project reviews (i.e. internal review documentation)
- Provide input to Quality Assurance processes

Pre-employment screening

All offers of employment are made subject to standard pre-employment screening, as applicable to the post.

If you are offered the post, you will be asked to provide proof of your right-to-work, your identity, and we will contact the referees you have nominated. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration (so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities so that we can discuss appropriate adjustments with you), and a declaration of any unspent criminal convictions.

We advise all applicants to read the candidate notes on the University's pre-employment screening procedures, found at: www.ox.ac.uk/about/jobs/preemploymentscreening/.

Selection criteria

- Previous experience with Configuration Management in a large engineering focused project
- Experience of managing Change Control processes
- Excellent communication skills, both written and verbal
- Demonstrated ability to manage own time and meet schedules
- Ability to work effectively with colleagues from different organisations and cultures

Desirable

- Appropriate qualification in Configuration Management (e.g. CMII)
- Experience with Microsoft Sharepoint management and configuration
- Experience with scientific instrument development in large international partnerships (e.g. ESO, ESA, CERN)
- Background/experience in a relevant engineering discipline (optics, mechanics, electronics, software).
- Knowledge and experience of database structures (e.g. MySQL)
- Experience with Quality Assurance processes

About the University of Oxford

Welcome to the University of Oxford. We aim to lead the world in research and education for the benefit of society both in the UK and globally. Oxford's researchers engage with academic, commercial and cultural partners across the world to stimulate high-quality research and enable innovation through a broad range of social, policy and economic impacts.

We believe our strengths lie both in empowering individuals and teams to address fundamental questions of global significance, while providing all our staff with a welcoming and inclusive workplace that enables everyone to develop and do their best work. Recognising that diversity is our strength, vital for innovation and creativity, we aspire to build a truly diverse community which values and respects every individual's unique contribution.

While we have long traditions of scholarship, we are also forward-looking, creative and cutting-edge. Oxford is one of Europe's most entrepreneurial universities and we rank first in the UK for university spin-outs, and in recent years we have spun out 15-20 new companies every year. We are also recognised as leaders in support for social enterprise.

Join us and you will find a unique, democratic and international community, a great range of staff benefits and access to a vibrant array of cultural activities in the beautiful city of Oxford. For more information, please visit www.ox.ac.uk/about/organisation.

Department of Physics

Oxford Physics is one of the largest and most eminent departments in Europe – pursuing forefront research alongside training the next generation of leaders in Physics.

With an academic staff of over one hundred our activities range from fundamental particles to the furthest reaches of the universe to manipulating matter on an atomic scale. Oxford physicists are probing new ways to harness solar energy, modelling the Earth's atmosphere to predict the future climate, exploring computation on the quantum scale and executing calculations that reveal the fundamental structure of space and time.

Astrophysics Sub-department

The post-holder will be based in the Astrophysics sub-department, which is one of the six sub-departments that together make up the Department of Physics; these are Astrophysics, Atomic and Laser Physics, Atmospheric, Oceanic and Planetary Physics, Condensed Matter Physics, Particle Physics and Theoretical Physics, with a seventh function (Central Physics) providing administrative and technical support to these sub-departments. Members of all sub-departments take part in research, teaching and matters such as examinations, discussion of syllabi, lectures and liaison with undergraduates and postgraduate students.

Mathematical, Physical & Life Sciences Division

The Mathematical, Physical and Life Sciences (MPLS) Division is one of the four academic divisions of the University of Oxford.

The MPLS Division's 10 departments and 3 interdisciplinary units span the full spectrum of the mathematical, computational, physical, engineering and life sciences, and undertake both fundamental research and cutting-edge applied work. Our research addresses major societal and technological challenges and is increasingly focused on key interdisciplinary issues. We collaborate closely with colleagues in Oxford across the medical sciences, social sciences and humanities, and with other universities, research organisations and industrial partners across the globe in pursuit of innovative research geared to address critical and fundamental scientific questions.

For more information please visit: <http://www.mpls.ox.ac.uk/>

Athena Swan Charter

The Department of Physics holds a silver Athena Swan award to recognise advancement of gender equality: representation, progression and success for all.

How to apply

Applications are made through our e-recruitment system and you will find all the information you need about how to apply on our Jobs website <https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/how-to-apply>.

Your application will be judged solely on the basis of how you demonstrate that you meet the selection criteria stated in the job description.

As part of your application you will be asked to provide details of three referees and indicate whether we can contact them now.

You will be asked to upload a CV and a supporting statement. The supporting statement must explain how you meet each of the selection criteria for the post using examples of your skills and experience. This may include experience gained in employment, education, or during career breaks (such as time out to care for dependants)

Please upload all documents as PDF files with your name and the document type in the filename.

All applications must be received by midday UK time on the closing date stated in the online advertisement.

Information for priority candidates

A priority candidate is a University employee who is seeking redeployment because they have been advised that they are at risk of redundancy, or on grounds of ill-health/disability. Priority candidates are issued with a redeployment letter by their employing departments.

If you are a priority candidate, please ensure that you attach your redeployment letter to your application (or email it to the contact address on the advert if the application form used for the vacancy does not allow attachments)
