

Job Description

MEDICAL SCIENCES DIVISION

Job title	Academic Administrator (Year 5 / GE3)
Division	Medical Sciences
Department	School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences
Location	(Clinical) Medical School Office, John Radcliffe Hospital, Headington. Model of working: mostly on site (with occasional remote working or up to 20% regular remote working).
Grade and salary	Grade 5: £28,759 - £33,966 (pro rata for part-time)
Hours	Part-time: 0.6 – 0.8 FTE (equivalent full-time 36.5 per week)
Contract type	Permanent
Reporting to	Senior Academic Administrator (Year 5 / GE3)
Vacancy reference	173257

The role

The mission of the School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences is to deliver four interdepartmental undergraduate programmes: Pre-clinical Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Graduate-entry Medicine, and Biomedical Sciences.

There are approximately 155-160 Clinical Medicine students and 35-40 Graduate-entry Medicine students in each cohort, and teaching and examining is provided by a large number of academic and/or clinical staff, drawn from clinical and non-clinical departments across the division. Students also attend clinical placements in partner NHS Trusts, and in primary care settings. As the responsibility for teaching and examining is shared across multiple departments in the Division, as well as the partner NHS trusts and primary care providers, the organisation of the course is more complex than for most other undergraduate programmes in the university.

The support staff for the School are situated in two main locations: the (Clinical) Medical School Office at the John Radcliffe Hospital, and the Medical Sciences Teaching Centre in the University's science area. The postholder will become part of the Clinical School administration team at the John Radcliffe Hospital.

The postholder will organise the Educational Supervisors' programme for the Clinical School. All Clinical Medicine students are allocated to an Educational Supervisor; a senior clinician who meets them termly, providing longitudinal educational support for the clinical years of the course, and acting as a link between the student, college and the School. The postholder will assist with the annual recruitment of supervisors, send regular email reminders of key dates, organise induction and training sessions for supervisors, allocate students, organise payment and act as a point of contact for supervisors and students.

The postholder will assist the Senior Academic Administrator (Year 5/GE3) with the administration of Year 5 of the Clinical Medicine programme, which is shared with Year 3 of the Graduate-entry Medicine programme. They will also assist with the arrangements for incoming Elective students. Within these broad areas, there will be some areas of work for which they have primary responsibility.

The School has a small team of academic and/or clinical staff who hold academic responsibility for different sections of the programmes. The postholder will work closely with the Director of Clinical Studies (Dr Catherine Swales), the Associate Director of Clinical Studies (Year 5 / GE3) (Professor Kate Saunders) and the Associate Director of Clinical Studies (Pastoral) (Dr Lois Brand), who is the academic lead for the Educational Supervisors' programme.

Responsibilities

1. Assist the Senior Academic Administrator (Year 5/GE3) with administering Year 5 of the Clinical Medicine programme, which will include:
 - Allocate Year 5 / GE3 students to specialty rotations, and communicate allocations to students and providers, liaising with staff in clinical departments;
 - Update course/teaching information on the Virtual Learning Environment (Canvas);
 - Maintain and update student records (mostly digital);
 - Monitor student progression during the various rotations; organising and servicing student progression meetings;
 - Drafting and sending routine circulars to staff and students;
 - Assist with organisation of clinical examinations (OSCE's) and computer-based examinations, and assist with examinations on the day, e.g. marshalling, timings, registration;
 - Collect and process student feedback; following up on issues and problems raised;
 - Process NHS Bursary travel/accommodation claims from Year 5 / GE3 students;
 - Administer a small number of prizes available to Oxford clinical students.
2. Assist the Senior Academic Administrator (Year 5 / GE3) with the arrangements for incoming Elective students, which will include:
 - Processing applications from students;
 - Arranging for the selection of students by academic post-holders;
 - Allocating successful students to attachments;
 - Preparing and compiling information to be sent to incoming students;
 - Arranging Occupational Health screening and DBS checks (where appropriate) for incoming students;

- Organising name badges, security ID and other practical matters for incoming students.
3. Organise the Educational Supervisors' programme:
 - Assist with the recruitment of new Educational Supervisors;
 - Organise training sessions and payment for supervisors;
 - Allocate students to supervisors;
 - Act as the administrative point of contact for supervisors and students.
 4. Deputise for the Senior Academic Administrator (Year 5 / GE3) if required in the case of illness/absence.
 5. Act as Secretary to one or more educational committees: arranging meetings, drafting agendas, papers and minutes.
 6. Act as a member of the support staff team on the day for clinical examinations (OSCE's) organised by other members of the office team, e.g. marshalling, timings, registration.
 7. Such other duties and responsibilities as may from time to time be required by the Director of Clinical Studies, the Associate Directors of Clinical Studies, or the Senior Academic Administrator (Year 5 / GE3).

Selection criteria

1. Ability to work systematically and to a high level of accuracy, with excellent attention to detail.
2. Excellent administrative, organisational and analytical skills; ability to manage a broad workload in an efficient manner. A high standard of personal organisation.
3. Willingness and ability to work harmoniously as a team member within a culture of academic leadership, as well as to work independently and to take the initiative to find solutions to problems, or to progress key tasks.
4. Experience of work in academic administration.
5. Excellent written and oral communication skills; excellent interpersonal skills; a mature and responsible attitude.
6. Excellent level of numeracy: ability to handle numerical data with confidence and accuracy.
7. Ability to provide a high level of customer service.
8. Tact and discretion; a good understanding of the principles of information security and protection of personal data.
9. Excellent standard of computer-literacy: ability to type, proficiency in the use of software including Microsoft Word, and Excel. Willingness and ability to learn to use new systems (training will be provided where required).
10. Excellent level of achievement in school and/or Further/Higher Education qualifications.

Desirable selection criteria

1. Experience of work in academic administration in the University of Oxford.

Pre-employment screening

Standard checks

If you are offered the post, the offer will be subject to standard pre-employment checks. You will be asked to provide: proof of your right-to-work in the UK; proof of your identity; and (if we haven't done so already) we will contact the referees you have nominated. If you have previously worked for the University we will also verify key information such as your dates of employment and reason for leaving your previous role with the department/unit where you worked. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities for which you may need us to make appropriate adjustments.

About the University of Oxford

Medical Sciences Division

The Medical Sciences Division is an internationally recognized centre of excellence for biomedical and clinical research and teaching, and the largest academic division in the University of Oxford. It includes 11 clinical departments, 5 non-clinical departments and two Institutes/Centres. All of the Division's departments are in receipt of Athena SWAN awards that recognise advancement of gender equality: representation, progression and success for all. World-leading programmes, housed in state-of-the-art facilities, cover the full range of scientific endeavour from the molecule to the population. With our NHS partners we also foster the highest possible standards in patient care.

The Medical Sciences Division is one of the four academic divisions within the University, (Humanities Division, Social Sciences Division, Mathematical, Physical and Life Sciences Division, and the Medical Sciences Division). Each division has its own academic Head of Division and a divisional secretariat, led by the Divisional Secretary.

The division is responsible for academic oversight of the teaching and research of its various departments, for strategic and operational planning, and for personnel and resource management. Much of the discussion and decision-making is undertaken by the divisional board and its principal committees.

The Divisional Office for Medical Sciences is based at the John Radcliffe Hospital. The administrative and secretarial staff of the Divisional Office is formally part of the Academic Administration Division of the University administration, and report to the Divisional Registrar.

The University of Oxford is a member of the Athena SWAN Charter holds an institutional Silver Athena SWAN award. For more information on the division, please visit www.medsci.ox.ac.uk.
