The role

Reporting to Dr Anders Bach-Mortensen and Dr Benjamin Goodair, Co-Investigators, the Postdoctoral Researcher will support a Nuffield Foundation funded project on the outsourcing of adult and children's social care in England – evaluating the impact of marketisation, for-profit provision, and privatisation of social care services, producing research on what it means for service users' outcomes, quality of care, and accessibility of care.

The role involves analysing a novel data resource of harmonised publicly available data on local authorities and adult and children's social care providers in England.

Responsibilities

- Conduct and contribute to high quality research on the outsourcing of adult and children's social care;

- Clean, analyse and visualise data, interpret the results reviewing and refining theories as appropriate;
- Identify and merge relevant datasets, developing new computational methodologies and processes;
- Manage own research and administrative activities, including small scale project management;
- Represent the research group, presenting papers at external meetings/seminars, either with other members of the group or alone;
- Contribute to wider project planning and research grant writing;
- Lead and contribute to the writing and formatting of research papers and project deliverables;
- Act as a source of information and advice to other members of the group on methodologies or procedures
- Responsible for the day-to-day administration of the research project;
- Contribute ideas for new research projects, and develop ideas for generating research income;

Selection criteria

Essential selection criteria

- Hold, or be close to completing, a relevant PhD/Dphil, together with relevant experience.
- Experience with quantitative data analysis.
- Experience working with quantitative data management, analysis, and visualisation.
- Ability to manage own research and administrative activities.
- Excellent communication skills, including the ability to write text that can be published, present data at conferences, and represent the research group at meetings.

Desirable selection criteria

- Experience working with administrative health or social care data.
- Experience with merging routinely collected administrative data.
- Knowledge of outsourcing literature and theory.
- Knowledge of statistical software R or Stata.
- Experience of conducting peer-reviewed research related to health and social care.

Pre-employment screening

Standard checks

If you are offered the post, the offer will be subject to standard pre-employment checks. You will be asked to provide: proof of your right-to-work in the UK; proof of your identity; and (if we haven't done so already) we will contact the referees you have nominated. If you have previously worked for the University we will also verify key information such as your dates of employment and reason for leaving your previous role with the department/unit where you worked. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities for which you may need us to make appropriate adjustments.

Please read the candidate notes on the University's pre-employment screening procedures at: <https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/pre-employment-checks>
